

The #1 Video Tool for Content Creators

BLACK
GIRL
DIGITAL

Black Girl Digital has collaborated with Curastory to support content creators in diversifying their revenue streams beyond social media platforms. Curastory offers a complimentary video editing tool that empowers creators to edit, monetize, distribute, and track their videos across a range of social media platforms.

Create.

Make your videos the next big thing with Curastory. We're on a mission to help content creators focus on what they do best with our user friendly editing and music licensing tools.

Take your content creation game to the next level with our drag-and-drop editing features so you can bring the wow factor. Got your video taken down again? Get access to over 1 million songs to choose from courtesy of Sony Music.

Monetize and Grow.

Let's turn your social stream into an income stream. Focus more of your time on creating the right videos and less on finding the right deals all while growing your community learning tips from collaborating with other creators.
